The 20th Century Hot Air Radiator System of Heating

MORE efficient and more reliable than hot water or steam, with the cost of installation one-half. The radiators are made of sheet steel, and can be set in any desired part of the room without cutting carpets or holes in floors. They can be decorated to conform to the room decorations; no iron pipes and valves coming up through the floors to leak and cause annoyance and destruction. The hot air from the furnace, located in the cellar, passes through the radiators in each room, giving an even and delightful temperature, without dust, smell or odor of coal gas, or any of the other numerous bad features of registers, hot water or steam. The circulation of the hot air through the 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR is perfect and constant, is always under absolute control and the heat can be regulated in each room. Any make of furnace, new or old, if efficient, can be used. The cost of installation is much less, and the economy of fuel much greater than in the best of hot water or steam heating systems, and the results far superior. We are now prepared to install complete THE 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR SYSTEM in new or old houses under our guarantee as to its efficiency. Advise location and size of property, when estimates on the cost of installation will be furnished without charge.

Nineteen designs were admitted in competition to the high school commission, composed of the Mayor, Comptroller, Building Inspector and President of the School Board. Mr. Edward A. Crane, of the firm of Rankin, Kellogg & Crane, served as an expert to pass on the various designs. The plans show a fine building, of classic design. It will contain thirty-two classrooms, a large assembly room and ample provision has been made for rooms assigned to principals, faculty and teachers, also for office, hospital, attendant and reception rooms. These are provided with toilet facilities. A roof garden will occupy the entire roof except that part over the assembly hall, which has a seating capacity of fourteen hundred. Provision is also made for biological, physical and chemical laboratories, toilet rooms, a library and art rooms. There will be a cloak room for each classroom. The heating and ventilating apparatus will occupy the rear of the basement. The boiler room will contain three boilers of 60 horse power each. The 20th Century Hot Air Radiator System of Heating

MORE efficient and more reliable than hot water or steam, with the cost of installation one-half. The radiators are made of sheet steel, and can be set in any desired part of the room without cutting carpets or holes in floors. They can be decorated to conform to the room decorations; no iron pipes and valves coming up through the floors to leak and cause annoyance and destruction. The hot air from the furnace, located in the cellar, passes through the radiators in each room, giving an even and delightful temperature, without dust, smell or odor of coal gas, or any of the other numerous bad features of registers, hot water or steam. The circulation of the hot air through the 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR is perfect and constant, is always under absolute control and the heat can be regulated in each room. Any make of furnace, new or old, if efficient, can be used. The cost of installation is much less, and the economy of fuel much greater than in the best of hot water or steam heating systems, and the results far superior.

We are now prepared to install complete THE 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR SYSTEM in new or old houses under our guarantee as to its efficiency. Advise location and size of property, when estimates on the cost of installation will be furnished without charge.

WOODS' STEEL CORNER

It is a patented steel strip that is fastened to lath, or other construction, on projecting corners, is embedded in the plaster and prevents it chipping. It does a great deal more, but our book, "Just Around the Corner," tells the rest. Send for it. A sample, too, for the asking. It costs less to put Woods' Steel Corner in a building than to keep the corners repaired.

DYCKERHOFF PORTLAND CEMENT

Made in Germany and used in the United States from more than twenty-five years. The high esteem in which it is held is due to its correct chemical composition, great strength and constant uniformity—perfections which have not been approached by any other cement.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, SEP. 14, 1904

PROGRESSIVENESS

The bright and clever sheet, "Graphite," issued monthly by the Joseph Dixon Crucible Company, is handed to us this month filled to the brim with interesting paint talks.

The contents dwell on the good that has been done in many sections where Dixon Silica-Graphite Paint has been used, and contains cuts of prominent structures that are permanently benefited by its use. Locally, they make mention of the St. James Apartments, at Thirteenth and Walnut streets. One of the finest structures of its kind in this vicinity, and a large monument to their fame. It is:

The structural work of the new Wanamaker Building, now looming up in Philadelphia, is being painted with two coats of Dixon's paint, which tells the story of how good their graphite paint is for the absolute prevention of corrosion of metals.

It must be understood that the graphite paint is not a fledgeling, trying its wings in the commercial world. To the contrary it has been manufactured and successfully sold to thousands of well satisfied consumers who, after years of experience, understand its great value, and who are consequently able to comprehend the vast difference between the Dixon Graphite Paint and the "cheap kind intended to catch the cheap man with whom any old thing is good enough if cheap enough."

In conclusion we think both our friends, the architect and builder, will make no mistake in specifying and using Dixon's Graphite Paint.

The 20th Century Hot Air Radiator System of Heating

MORE efficient and more reliable than hot water or steam, with the cost of installation one-half. The radiators are made of sheet steel, and can be set in any desired part of the room without cutting carpets or holes in floors. They can be decorated to conform to the room decorations; no iron pipes and valves coming up through the floors to leak and cause annoyance and destruction. The hot air from the furnace, located in the cellar, passes through the radiators in each room, giving an even and delightful temperature, without dust, smell or odor of coal gas, or any of the other numerous bad features of registers, hot water or steam. The circulation of the hot air through the 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR is perfect and constant, is always under absolute control and the heat can be regulated in each room. Any make of furnace, new or old, if efficient, can be used. The cost of installation is much less, and the economy of fuel much greater than in the best of hot water or steam heating systems, and the results far superior. We are now prepared to install complete THE 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR SYSTEM in new or old houses under our guarantee as to its efficiency. Advise location and size of property, when estimates on the cost of installation will be furnished without charge.

PLAN TO BEAUTIFY CITY OF MANILA

Six million dollars will be expended in improving and beautifying Manila. Work will begin immediately on a water works system to cost $4,000,000 and a sewer system to cost $2,000,000.

Major J. F. Case, engineer for the city of Manila, is now in Washington consulting with Secretary Taft and Colonel Edwards, chief of the Bureau of Insular Affairs. His plans for the water and sewer system of Manila have been approved by Desmond Fitzgerald, the great authority on municipal engineering, who recently returned from a trip to the Philippines.

Congress has made it possible for the Philippine government to issue sufficient bonds to construct the water and sewer systems, and work will begin immediately. The bonds will probably not be issued before January 1.

Mr. Burnham, the Chicago landscape expert and architect, will go to Manila in a short time to inspect the city and will report plans for the beautification of the city, which is to be accomplished at a cost of $2,000,000 or more. The esteros, or open waterways, are to be straightened and freed from all sewage, and parks are to be laid out.

The walled city is to be preserved and put in first-class sanitary condition.—Exchange.

HOW MEXICANS LAY BRICK.

Southern indolence is seldom better exemplified than in the Mexican workman, who as a mechanic is imitative and slow. He does well, however, in stone, brick and mortar, for he and his fathers have worked in them for ages, yet his best efforts seldom exceed the laying of 200 bricks a day, while the American will lay ten times that number. If a brick does not fit, he marks it carefully and then hacks away for five minutes, whereas his American fellow-tradesman would knock off the piece with one quick stroke. Building contractors say it is cheaper to employ Indians to dig cellars, even when the excavation is to be a large one, than to employ mules and scrapers. An Indian will easily carry two bushels and one-half of wet sand out of a hole in the ground—carry it on his back—and will work for 25 cents a day in gold. The better way to deal with him, however, is to pay him a stated sum for a stipulated task—then he will work; otherwise he will do as little as he is allowed to.—Exchange.

ARCHITECTS' NOTES

Stearns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building, are working on plans for an addition to the factory of the American Pork and Hoe Company, at Ashland avenue and Frankford Creek, Philadelphia. It will be built of brick and will measure 40x50 feet, and will be two stories high.

Emil Hartman, architect, 514 Walnut street, is working on plans and specifications for a new brewery to be built at Shenandoah, Pa., for Mr. J. J. Franey. There will be a brew-house five stories high, 30x126 feet; a boiler and engine house three stories and basement high; a washer house, racking room three stories high, all to be built of brick and steel and will be fireproof.

Heacock & Hokanson, architects, 931 Chestnut street, are working on plans for a twin residence to be built at Jenkintown, Pa., for Mrs. Schwartz. They will be two-and-a-half stories high, of frame and stone, and will measure 48x28 feet each, and will have porch on front. The interior will be in hardwood finish and they will have all up-to-date improvements.

It is stated that Mrs. Mary C. Adams, residing at the Ryan Flats, corner of Virginia and Pacific avenues, Atlantic City, N. J., will erect a large hotel on a plot of ground on the beach at that place. We were told that Mrs. Adams would probably plan the hotel herself, but this, of course, is impossible, except as to the arrangement of the interior, as working plans for construction will be needed.

Horace Trumbauer, architect, Land Title Building, will send plans and specifications out the latter part of this week for a new residence to be built at Forty-second and Fine streets for Mr. Chas. Eisenlohr. It will be three-and-a-half stories high and will be built of brick and stone, the interior will be in hardwood. It will have tile baths, mantels, best plumbing and every modern convenience and appointment.

L. V. Boyd, architect, Harrison Building, has completed plans for alterations and additions and invited estimates to the residence of Mrs. McClellan, at Wayne and Maplewood avenues, Germantown. Plans provide for a two-and-a-half-story addition, of brick, and general interior improvements. Bids due September 23d. The following have been invited to bid: Wm. F. Kohl, W. J. Gruhler, McClinck & Weaver, H. B. Shoemaker & Co., D. W. Sperry and Hays Mendenhall.

Herman Miller, architect, and Henry Wilson, associate architect, Crozer Building, 1420 Chestnut street, have completed plans and specifications and invited estimates for a new edifice for North Penn Baptist congregation, to be built at Twenty-seventh and York streets. It will be one-story and basement high, 76x50 feet, and will be built of Holmesburg granite, and will have a slate roof. It will have the usual church furnishings and is estimated to cost $15,000.

They will be two stories high, 16x54 feet, and will be built of brick. The interior will have all modern and up-to-date appointments. The equipment of the power house will be steam turbines of large size to drive the electrical generators and other machinery to be installed. The building will accommodate three 450 horse power boilers, and will be entirely fireproof. The contract price is $21,200.

The plan that has been presented to the tunnel company by the Public Service Corporation is that the trolley company vacate all of this large plot of land to enable the tunnel company to not only have adequate room for its terminal, but ample storage room west of it. The company will construct an elevated passageway into the ferry house, which will be erected by the Lackawanna Railroad Company.

At Washington, D. C. it is said that the National Government is considering elaborate plans for extensive improvement at Manila, Philippine Islands, to convert it into a modern capital. It is also expected that these plans will include the establishment of a summer capital in the mountains, about one hundred miles from Manila, somewhat similar to Simla, established in India by the English Government. The Manila project has progressed so far that the task of working out the detailed plans has been committed within the last week by Secretary of War Taft to Daniel H. Burnham, of Chicago. It involves the expenditure of millions. The news has been received in this city from Washington and has been confirmed by Mr. Burnham. The Chicago architect will leave next week for San Francisco, and will sail next month for Manila. He will be accompanied only by a professional assistant, and expects to be gone five months. The central idea of the plan will be found in a series of administration buildings for the department, which now are scattered all over the city in temporary and often miserable quarters. There will be a residence for the Governor, a public library, museum, public baths and a large park to be designed. Mr. Burnham said his greatest interest is wrapped up in the possibilities of the plans for the summer capital. This Philippine Simla, to which the entire American administrative colony will migrate in the heated term, will be located at Begulo, in the province of Benguet, 100 miles north of Manila. It is a great mountain meadow twenty miles from the sea and 4,500 feet above its level. The climate there is cool and equitable all the year, and is free from the diseases of malarial character, which make life at a sea level a menace in the summer.

The 20th Century Hot Air Radiator System of Heating

MORE efficient and more reliable than hot water or steam, with the cost of installation one-half. The radiators are made of sheet steel, and can be set in any desired part of the room without cutting carpets or holes in floors. They can be decorated to conform to the room decorations; no iron pipes and valves coming up through the floors to leak and cause annoyance and destruction. The hot air from the furnace, located in the cellar, passes through the radiators in each room, giving an even and delightful temperature, without dust, smell or odor of coal gas, or any of the other numerous bad features of registers, hot water or steam. The circulation of the hot air through the 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR is perfect and constant, is always under absolute control and the heat can be regulated in each room. Any make of furnace, new or old, if efficient, can be used. The cost of installation is much less, and the economy of fuel much greater than in the best of hot water or steam heating systems, and the results far superior. We are now prepared to install complete THE 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR SYSTEM in new or old houses under our guarantee as to its efficiency. Advise location and size of property, when estimates on the cost of installation will be furnished without charge.

Architects George B. Post & Sons, 33 and 35 East Seventeenth street, New York City, are preparing plans for a group of buildings for the treatment of tuberculosis, to be erected at Glen Gardner, N. J. The architects are ready for bids. No contracts have yet been awarded.

Four and one-half acres of ground at Roxborough, Phila., has been donated to the American Baptist Board by Sarah Parker, upon which a handsome home for colored people will be erected. A leading Philadelphia architect has been commissioned to prepare plans for this home and in a short while bids will be invited.

Koele, Speth & Co., architects and engineers, 608 Chestnut street, have been commissioned to prepare plans for a new brewery to be built at Sunbury, Pa., for Messrs. J. & A. Moeschlin. The plant will comprise the following buildings: A brew house to be five stories high, 43x50 feet, a refrigerator and machine house 32x50 feet, and will be two stories high, and a stock house four stories high, 32x48 feet, all to be built of brick and steel and will be fireproof in their construction. It is expected that plans will be ready for bids in about two weeks.

C. C. Zantinger, architect, 263 South Fourth street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for the new $50,000 free library to be built at Fortieth and Walnut streets. It will be three stories and basement high, and will be built of stone, with the usual library furnishings. Bids due October 4th. The following builders have been invited to bid: Wm. R. Dougherty, Henderson & Co., Thomas Little & Son, A. S. Tourison, Thomas Seeds, Jr., J. S. Wilson, Harry Brocklehurst and Appleton & Burrell.

It will be one-story and basement high, 40x75 feet, and will be built of polished black header brick laid in Flemish bond, with polished white terra-cotta trimmings, with an inscription in Mosaic. It will be heated by steam, wired for electricity and contain the usual church furnishings. It will be ready for bids in about one week's time.

Thomas Stephens', architect, Masonic Temple Building, Camden, N. J., plans have been accepted by the library committee for the erection of the free public library at the intersection of Westfield avenue, Federal and Twenty-sixth streets, Camden, N. J. The design shows a building with two stories and basement. The exterior is to be of pressed brick, with limestone trimmings. It will be Colonial in style of architecture. It will have a handsome entrance, flanked on either side by marble columns reaching to the roof. The interior will be handsomely finished, and it will have a capacity of 15,710 volumes. The 20th Century Hot Air Radiator System of Heating

MORE efficient and more reliable than hot water or steam, with the cost of installation one-half. The radiators are made of sheet steel, and can be set in any desired part of the room without cutting carpets or holes in floors. They can be decorated to conform to the room decorations; no iron pipes and valves coming up through the floors to leak and cause annoyance and destruction. The hot air from the furnace, located in the cellar, passes through the radiators in each room, giving an even and delightful temperature, without dust, smell or odor of coal gas, or any of the other numerous bad features of registers, hot water or steam. The circulation of the hot air through the 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR is perfect and constant, is always under absolute control and the heat can be regulated in each room. Any make of furnace, new or old, if efficient, can be used. The cost of installation is much less, and the economy of fuel much greater than in the best of hot water or steam heating systems, and the results far superior. We are now prepared to install complete THE 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR SYSTEM in new or old houses under our guarantee as to its efficiency. Advise location and size of property, when estimates on the cost of installation will be furnished without charge.

WOODS' STEEL CORNER

It is a patented steel strip that is fastened to lath, or other construction, on projecting corners, is embedded in the plaster and prevents it chipping. It does a great deal more, but our book, "Just Around the Corner," tells the rest. Send for it. A sample, too, for the asking. It costs less to put Woods' Steel Corner in a building than to keep the corners repaired.

The 20th Century Hot Air Radiator System of Heating

MORE efficient and more reliable than hot water or steam, with the cost of installation one-half. The radiators are made of sheet steel, and can be set in any desired part of the room without cutting carpets or holes in floors. They can be decorated to conform to the room decorations; no iron pipes and valves coming up through the floors to leak and cause annoyance and destruction. The hot air from the furnace, located in the cellar, passes through the radiators in each room, giving an even and delightful temperature, without dust, smell or odor of coal gas, or any of the other numerous bad features of registers, hot water or steam. The circulation of the hot air through the 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR is perfect and constant, is always under absolute control and the heat can be regulated in each room. Any make of furnace, new or old, if efficient, can be used. The cost of installation is much less, and the economy of fuel much greater than in the best of hot water or steam heating systems, and the results far superior.

We are now prepared to install complete THE 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR SYSTEM in new or old houses under our guarantee as to its efficiency. Advise location and size of property, when estimates on the cost of installation will be furnished without charge.

WOODS' STEEL CORNER

It is a patented steel strip that is fastened to lath, or other construction, on projecting corners, is embedded in the plaster and prevents it chipping. It does a great deal more, but our book, "Just Around the Corner," tells the rest. Send for it. A sample, too, for the asking. It costs less to put Woods' Steel Corner in a building than to keep the corners repaired.

DYCKERHOFF PORTLAND CEMENT

Made in Germany and used in the United States for more than twenty-five years. The high esteem in which it is held is due to its correct chemical composition, great strength and constant uniformity—perfections which have not been approached by any other cement.

ARCHITECTS' NOTES

Francis G. Caldwell, architect, has withdrawn from the firm of Caldwell & Simon, architects, and has established offices at 1007 Bailey Building, 1218 Chestnut street.

It is reported that the firm of Bunting & Shrigley, architects, 140 North Fifteenth street, have been commissioned to prepare plans and specifications for a handsome residence and stable to be built on Seminole above Rex avenue, for R. L. Austin, vice president of the Girard National Bank. Too early for details.

The firm of Seymour Davis and Paul A. Davis, 3d, architects, 907 Walnut street, has been selected to prepare plans and specifications for the Y. M. C. A. Building for the Young Men's Christian Association, to be built at Niagara Falls, N. Y. It will be three stories and basement high, of brick. Further details later.

Henry L. Reinhold, Jr., architect, 1004 Chestnut street, has completed plans and specifications for alterations and additions to the residence at Broad and Berks streets, for the Monument Cemetery Company. The addition will be three stories high, of brick and stone, 40x40 feet. It is expected that the owner will take bids.

Application has been made for a charter for the American Oncologic Hospital, for the treatment of cancers. C. Wilson Roberts is the attorney for the hospital movement, and it is expected that the charter will be granted in about six weeks, when the work of selecting a site and the engaging of an architect for the new hospital will be begun immediately.

Forty-four sets of plans for the proposed Carnegie Institute, to be erected at Pittsburgh, Pa., at a cost of $5,000,000, have been submitted to Professor Warren P. Laird, of the University of Pennsylvania Architectural Department, for judgment, he having been selected to act as advisor to the Carnegie Institute Committee. His selection will be announced on October 22d.

Herman Miller and Wm. D. Yarnall, associate architects, Crozer Building, have completed plans and specifications for a new residence for Mr. George F. Moore, to be built near Portland, Me. It will be three stories high, of rough rock faced stone, and will have slate roof and measure 70x50 feet. It will have hardwood on the interior and all up-to-date improvements, and will cost about $7,000.

J. Franklin Stuckert & Sons, architects and engineers, 1421 Chestnut street, have completed plans and invited estimates for a new store building to be built at 826 Arch street, for John Dobson. It will be five stories and basement high, and will be built of brick and slow burning construction, will have tower fire escape and all modern appointments. Bids due October 14th. The following builders are bidding: Wm. Steele & Sons, W. R. Dougherty and A. Raymond Raff.

As it was found impossible to secure the additional amount of money from the Finance Committee of City Council in order to award the contract to the lowest bidders, Henderson & Co., their price for the three schools (recently reported) was $250,700, the Property Committee of the Board of Education has instructed their architect, J. Horace Cook, to revise the plans and specifications for these schools so as to bring them within the amount appropriated and again advertise for bids.

Camden new trust company will be chartered in a few days. The location will be near Broadway and Kaighn avenue, Camden, N. J., and a neat building will be erected. It is most likely that the company will secure the vacant lot on Broadway, a few doors north of Kaighn avenue. Dr. William Shafer, a physician and druggist, of Haddon and Wright avenues, that city, is the secretary and one of the prime movers in the scheme to erect the new building. The capital of the trust company will be $100,000.

Wilson, Harris & Richards, architects and engineers, Drexel Building, have completed plans and specifications and invited estimates for alterations and additions to the home for Hebrew Orphans, at Tenth and Bainbridge streets. Plans provide for kitchen extension, new kitchen and dining-room and classrooms on the second floor and general interior improvements. Bids due October 14th. The following builders are bidding: B. Quinto, A. Frank & Co., D. A. McLelland, Alex. Chamberly, John R. Wiggins & Co., and J. E. & A. L. Pennock.

Friede & Medary, architects, 1414 South Penn Square, have completed plans and invited estimates for a handsome new stable for Mrs. Constance C. Davidson, to be built on West View street, Pelham, Phila. It will be two stories high, 50 feet square, and will be built of brick and stone. The first floor will contain stalls, carriage house, harness room, etc. The second floor, hay loft and man quarters. The bids are due October 13th, and the following builders have been invited to bid: Appleton & Burrell, Thos. Seeds, Jr., Frank E. Wallace, Jacob Myers & Sons, and A. S. Tourison.

Gillespie & Carrel, associate architects, 1123 Broadway, New York, are working on plans and specifications for a new church and remodeling chapel for the Calvert M. E. congregation, situated at Forty-eighth and Baltimore avenue, this city. The church will be two stories high, 110x120 feet, and will be built of stone and will contain assembly room, gymnasium, kitchen, dining-room, parlor and play-room, etc. It will be heated by steam, wired for electricity and will have the usual church furnishings. The plans will be ready for bids in about three weeks' time, and Rev. A. E. Piper, of 906 Fairagut street, this city, is the pastor.

Brockie & Hastings', architects, 328 Chestnut street, plans have been accepted in competition by the building committee for the new high school for Cheltenham township, which will be erected on the five-acre plot of ground opposite Elkins Park Station. It will be two stories and basement high, and will be built of stone. The basement will contain gymnasium, manual training quarters, lockers, bicycle storeroom, etc. On the first floor will be classrooms for 200 persons, and an assembly-room. On the second floor will be a general auditorium, with seating accommodations for 500 persons. The plans will not be ready for bids for about two weeks.

Heacock & Hokanson, architects, 931 Chestnut street, have completed plans and specifications and invited estimates for a new residence to be built at Wyncote, Pa., for Wm. Chubb. It will be two-and-a-half stories high, 56x73 feet, and will be built of brick and half timber, and will have a porch on the front. The interior will be in hardwood finish and it will have all conveniences. Bids due October 14th. The following have been invited to bid: D. A. Sperry, F. B. Davies, F. L. Hoover & Son, Metzger & Wells, J. Sims Wilson and McCarthy & Wilman. They also have completed plans and invited estimates from G. W. Sperry, S. D. Carson, W. J. Stevens, M. E. Hauser, Lynch Bros., and P. J. Hurley for a twin house for Mr. Charles E. Scharzt, to be built at Jenkintown, Pa. It will be two-and-a-half stories high, 53x63 feet, and will be built of frame, with stone foundations. It will have a porch on front. The interior will be in hardwood finish, and it will have all modern improvements. Bids due October 15th.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE NOTES

New Jersey Pulp Plaster Company, manu- facturers of wall plaster, Trenton, N. J., with offices at 920 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, were elected members of the Master Builders' Exchange.

The Christian and Missionary Alliance, at 560 North Twentieth street, will make alterations and build a one-story addition 13x53 feet, of brick, to their present building. J. Sims Wilson, builder, of 1125 Brown street, has submitted bids.

George C. Scott, owner, 1403 Filbert street, is taking bids for the erection of his new residence to be built at Highland and Union avenues, Bala, Pa. It will be two-and-a-half stories high, of stone and frame, and will contain fourteen rooms, with all improvements. The plans are by C. E. Schermerhorn, architect, 430 Walnut street.

The building is five stories high, and the lot measures 50x230 feet. The price paid is at a rate of $15,000 a front foot. This figure has only been exceeded in one instance for Chestnut street realty, and that was the southeast corner of Juniper and Chestnut streets, which was sold for $16,250 a front foot.

Mr. Conover, builder, at Chelsea, Atlantic City, N. J., has been awarded the contract to build the new six-story hotel on the beach front near New Jersey avenue, that city, for Mrs. Mary F. Adams, whose address is Ryan Plats, corner of Virginia and Pacific avenues. The proposed new hotel will be built of brick and will have every modern and up-to-date appointment. It is the intention of Mrs. Adams to have the new hotel ready for guests by Easter of 1905.

John R. Wiggins & Co., builders, Heed Building, have been awarded the contracts for the following work for the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company: A one-story office building, measuring 57x105 feet, to be built of brick and erected at Second and Wyoming avenue; the addition to the car barn at Thirtieth and Jackson streets; the alteration to the office and addition to the car barn at Forty-first and Havertown avenue. The plans are by Wm. S. Twining, chief engineer.

W. R. Dougherty and Roydhouse, Arcy & Co., builders, have plans posted for a handsome new residence for W. Plunkett Stewart, son-in-law of Alex. J. Cassatt, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, to be built at Green Spring Valley, near Baltimore, Md. It will be three stories high, of the Elizabethan style of architecture, and will measure 83x43 feet, with a wing 59x24 feet. It will be constructed of brick and stone. The interior will be in hardwood finish and it will have every modern convenience and appointment, and will cost $60,000. Bids due October 15th. The plans and specifications are by Chapman & Frazer, architects, Boston, Mass.

Ballinger & Perrot, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street, prepared the plans and specifications for the new building now in the course of construction at the northeast corner of Fourth and Locust streets for the Review Publishing and Printing Company. This building covers an area of 38x73 feet, contains four stories and basement, and was formerly used by the Erie & Western Transportation Company as an office building. The new owners, who, through their connection with insurance companies, were very familiar with insurance requirements, engaged them to make certain alterations in the building, such as removing partitions, interior stairs, etc., and to provide tower fire escape, brick-enclosed elevator, new plumbing, etc. The system of fireproof construction adopted is reinforced concrete, and it is unique in its method of reinforcement. The steel for reinforcement, instead of being put in each girder as the concrete is placed therein, and having four or more main members together with stirrups (as is usual with other systems), girder frames are provided, being made from quadruple bars connected together by webs. These bars are 3/4 to 1 1/4-inch diameter, the webs being 1 1/2-inch wide, and from 1/4 to 5/16-inch thickness. These webs have tongues 2 inches long punched from same, projecting downward. The outside bars are sheared off entirely from the webs from the end to a point a few feet from the middle, and are bent upward to form camber rods, to take care of the negative bending stresses near the bearings, the middle rods being straight the entire distance and bearing upon the wall or column. Stirrups of 1/2x1 inch steel, U shaped, are threaded through the holes punched in the webs and tongues under the stirrups are hammered back to clinch the stirrup in position. Thus, in one unit the girder frame is delivered to the building. To insure its being set the proper height, cast steel sockets 1 1/2-inch in height, with hole through centre, threaded, and having threaded shaft extending downward, are placed in the centre of the concrete girder and bolted thereto from the under side, a hole first being bored in the wood centring for the purpose. The girder frame is then set in position so that the threaded bolt extending upward from the socket passes through holes punched through the centre web. A nut is then screwed down upon these bolts firmly locking the girder frame in position, after which the concrete is poured in and rammed about the girder frame. This system thus has the distinctive advantage of having all the steel used in reinforcement placed in position before the concrete is put in, thus enabling the architect to inspect same and feel sure that no portion is omitted.

The 20th Century Hot Air Radiator System of Heating

MORE efficient and more reliable than hot water or steam, with the cost of installation one-half. The radiators are made of sheet steel, and can be set in any desired part of the room without cutting carpets or holes in floors. They can be decorated to conform to the room decorations; no iron pipes and valves coming up through the floors to leak and cause annoyance and destruction. The hot air from the furnace, located in the cellar, passes through the radiators in each room, giving an even and delightful temperature, without dust, smell or odor of coal gas, or any of the other numerous bad features of registers, hot water or steam. The circulation of the hot air through the 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR is perfect and constant, is always under absolute control and the heat can be regulated in each room. Any make of furnace, new or old, if efficient, can be used. The cost of installation is much less, and the economy of fuel much greater than in the best of hot water or steam heating systems, and the results far superior.

We are now prepared to install complete THE 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR SYSTEM in new or old houses under our guarantee as to its efficiency. Advise location and size of property, when estimates on the cost of installation will be furnished without charge.

WOODS' STEEL CORNER

It is a patented steel strip that is fastened to lath, or other construction, on projecting corners, is embedded in the plaster and prevents it chipping. It does a great deal more, but our book, "Just Around the Corner," tells the rest. Send for it. A sample, too, for the asking. It costs less to put Woods' Steel Corner in a building than to keep the corners repaired.

The 20th Century Hot Air Radiator System of Heating

MORE efficient and more reliable than hot water or steam, with the cost of installation one-half. The radiators are made of sheet steel, and can be set in any desired part of the room without cutting carpets or holes in floors. They can be decorated to conform to the room decorations; no iron pipes and valves coming up through the floors to leak and cause annoyance and destruction. The hot air from the furnace, located in the cellar, passes through the radiators in each room, giving an even and delightful temperature, without dust, smell or odor of coal gas, or any of the other numerous bad features of registers, hot water or steam. The circulation of the hot air through the 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR is perfect and constant, is always under absolute control and the heat can be regulated in each room. Any make of furnace, new or old, if efficient, can be used. The cost of installation is much less, and the economy of fuel much greater than in the best of hot water or steam heating systems, and the results far superior.

We are now prepared to install complete THE 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR SYSTEM in new or old houses under our guarantee as to its efficiency. Advise location and size of property, when estimates on the cost of installation will be furnished without charge.

It is a patented steel strip that is fastened to lath, or other construction, on projecting corners, is embedded in the plaster and prevents it chipping. It does a great deal more, but our book, "Just Around the Corner," tells the rest. Send for it. A sample, too, for the asking. The 20th Century Hot Air Radiator System of Heating

MORE efficient and more reliable than hot water or steam, with the cost of installation one-half. The radiators are made of sheet steel, and can be set in any desired part of the room without cutting carpets or holes in floors. They can be decorated to conform to the room decorations; no iron pipes and valves coming up through the floors to leak and cause annoyance and destruction. The hot air from the furnace, located in the cellar, passes through the radiators in each room, giving an even and delightful temperature, without dust, smell or odor of coal gas, or any of the other numerous bad features of registers, hot water or steam. The circulation of the hot air through the 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR is perfect and constant, is always under absolute control and the heat can be regulated in each room. Any make of furnace, new or old, if efficient, can be used. The cost of installation is much less, and the economy of fuel much greater than in the best of hot water or steam heating systems, and the results far superior. We are now prepared to install complete THE 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR SYSTEM in new or old houses under our guarantee as to its efficiency. Advise location and size of property, when estimates on the cost of installation will be furnished without charge.

WOODS' STEEL CORNER

It is a patented steel strip that is fastened to lath, or other construction, on projecting corners, is embedded in the plaster and prevents it chipping. It does a great deal more, but our book, "Just Around the Corner," tells the rest. Send for it. A sample, too, for the asking. It costs less to put Woods' Steel Corner in a building than to keep the corners repaired.

MORE efficient and more reliable than hot water or steam, with the cost of installation one-half. The radiators are made of sheet steel, and can be set in any desired part of the room without cutting carpets or holes in floors. They can be decorated to conform to the room decorations; no iron pipes and valves coming up through the floors to leak and cause annoyance and destruction. The hot air from the furnace, located in the cellar, passes through the radiators in each room, giving an even and delightful temperature, without dust, smell or odor of coal gas, or any of the other numerous bad features of registers, hot water or steam. The circulation of the hot air through the 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR is perfect and constant, is always under absolute control and the heat can be regulated in each room. Any make of furnace, new or old, if efficient, can be used. The cost of installation is much less, and the economy of fuel much greater than in the best of hot water or steam heating systems, and the results far superior. WOODS' STEEL CORNER

It is a patented steel strip that is fastened to lath, or other construction, on projecting corners, is embedded in the plaster and prevents it chipping. It does a great deal more, but our book, "Just Around the Corner," tells the rest. Send for it. A sample, too, for the asking. It costs less to put Woods' Steel Corner in a building than to keep the corners repaired.

A Shrewd Operative Builder

FULLY COMPREHENDS the importance of attractive and impressive selling factors in commanding the attention and preference of buyers. For this reason, OPERATIVE BUILDERS have already realized that one of the best selling cards is to be able to say to a prospective customer that the house is glazed with POLISHED PLATE GLASS. Its cost, while somewhat more than that of common Window Glass, is fully justified by the additional attraction and value which Plate Glass gives to the property, and its influence upon a buyer can hardly be overestimated.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, NOV. 9, 1904.

It is stated that there is such a scarcity of dwellings in Chester, Pa., that the working people are compelled to live at Sharon Hill, Glenolden, Philadelphia and other places. Our informant also states that 3,000 dwellings could be profitably rented and sold if erected at that place.

It was a long road to travel for those who started, in 1863, to solve the problem of a life full of business cares and responsibilities.

The forty-one years that have elapsed were strewn with heart-breaking failures, blasted fortunes and wrecked hopes.

The survivors whose inception into business life commenced with the Civil War are fewer than most men think.

There is, however, a number of these right here in conservative Philadelphia—a greater number than is perhaps in any other American city—and among the number there is no house that has a cleaner record than the old paint and varnish manufacturing firm of Felton, Sibley & Co., 136-140 North Fourth street.

The business of this concern not only embraces the manufacture of paints and varnishes; but the firm is also heavy dealers in painters' supplies of all kinds.

Its present popularity is well merited, for its maxims has been from the very beginning a full dollar's worth of pure goods for a dollar, and this is the secret of its great success.

ARCHITECTS' NOTES.

The Camden National Bank, now at Second and Kaighn avenue, have purchased a property at the corner of Broadway and Sycamore street, and will erect on the site one of the finest banking institutions in South Jersey. It is expected that an architect will be engaged and work started as soon as possible.

Wm. C. Fritchett, architect, 420 Walnut street, has completed plans and specifications and invited estimates for alterations and additions to the residence of Mr. George R. Eschle-mann, at Lancaster, Pa. Plans provide for an addition to be three stories high of stucco and frame and general interior improvement. The following builders have plans: Herman Wiant, J. P. Brennan and Herman F. Wohlson, all of Lancaster, Pa.

THE RESULTS OF THE BUILD- ING SEASON ENDING WITH OCTOBER 31st, LAST.

6,720 new buildings of all kinds, for which permits were issued, costing $21,253,570, exclusive of the cost of the land; 1,801 more new buildings than for the same months last year, but a decrease in the amount invested of $4,246,255.

2,007 alterations and additions (costing $300 and over included) costing $3,010,500; an increase of 143, with an increased investment of $214,500. The expenditure thus far this year, including alterations and additions, amounts to $24,264,070, while last year the total for the corresponding months reached $28,295,825. This shows a loss of $4,031,755 in the total investment thus far this year.

16,043 transfers of real estate against 14,881 for the same months of last year. The cash consideration in 1903 was $79,555,537.28, while this year it is $78,453,483.86, a decrease of $1,102,053.42.

In the early Spring of '65 we found ourselves in a New England town making an effort in a short cut across the country in order to escape a long ride by rail, which would have occupied many hours besides being very expensive.

It was after a prolonged rain, and the frost having left the ground, the roads were heavy with mud. We were directed in the early morning to the stage-coach barn, where to our amazement we saw a sign which read as follows:

First Class Passage	$1.50
Second Class Passage	1.00
Third Class Passage	.50

The coach, which was about the worst looking rat-trap we had ever seen, stood outside, unhorsed.

It was unpainted, except with a coat of yellow mud; without cushions or other luxury, and it puzzled us as it did every stranger to recognize the justice of this vast discrimination in the price of transportation.

We concluded that it was nothing more or less than a Yankee trick to squeeze the uninitiated, and as we deemed ourselves not of the gullible kind we purchased a fifty-cent ticket without asking a single question.

At seven o'clock precisely the horses were brought out, when with enough others to fill it we mounted the old veteran and were even more surprised to find that there was no choice of seats.

The driver gathered up his lines over his old crowd baits and the stage-coach moved out at a slow walk.

We soon realized the difficulty of travel at that time of the year in that section of the country, but it was left to the writer and two other innocents to learn the full meaning of the different rates of fare, for at the very bottom of a long muddy hill the driver pulled up his horses to a standstill and turning his face full on the crowd behind him in a loud sonorous voice shouted:

"First class passengers, keep your seats. Second class passengers, get out and walk. Third class passengers, get out and push like h—l."

We paid the penalty for our wisdom just as some of the renters of small houses are paying for their knowledge as to the plentitude of houses in every direction, who consequently positively refuse to pay any advance in the monthly rental or who will move anyhow unless the agent makes repairs to suit them.

These people move of course, but it is because they are compelled to do so, and it is in many cases to the storage warehouse or to the rooms or home of some relative, and they soon learn that they had been guilty of very poor judgment, just as we learned it in our stage-coach experience—when it was too late.

In our quest for information on which to base this report we met some of these people, who informed us that there seemed to be no small dwellings for rent, as they had tried in the offices of many real estate agents and were told that they had none.

Of a prominent owner of 450 houses we asked on Monday morning, October 31st, "What percentage of your big list of small houses have you vacant?"

He replied, "No percentage at all, unless some one has moved since Saturday night." These houses range from $15 to $30 a month. Out of another list of 750 large and small dwellings there were only ten of all kinds vacant. Another agent, with a list of about one thousand dwellings, did not have a single key on his rack, and didn't expect to have very soon. This is the condition as we find it, and it seems to prevail in every direction.

Consequently the small house renter who kicks against the tariff on rentals must expect to have some hard pushing, even if the roads are not muddy, before he or she will be suited.

This, of course, does not mean that there are no small houses vacant. Indeed it is a surprise that there are not plenty in face of the fact that on January 1, 1904, there were 247,404 dwellings of all kinds in this city, to which must be added our present record of new dwellings, which, of all kinds, makes a total of 253,555.

This then is the supply and demand question in a nut shell; for of the 6,720 new buildings for which permits were issued up to November 1st, this year, 6,251 were for new dwellings, which includes the 36 four-story dwellings, and the remarkable feature of this showing is the fact that West Philadelphia can justify claim 3,239, or over 51 per cent.

An analysis of the work of our operative builders after eliminating the 36 four-story dwellings shows a total of two and three-story dwellings (including stores and dwellings) of 6,215.

The important gains by wards in two-story dwellings are: Twenty-second, 139; Twenty-third, 241; Twenty-fourth, 77; Twenty-fifth, 51; Twenty-sixth, 15; Twenty-seventh, 588; Thirty-third, 317; Thirty-fourth, 171; Thirty-fifth, 44; Thirty-seventh, 10; Thirty-ninth, 94; Fortieth, 265; Forty-first, 65, and Forty-second, 57.

It will also be seen that the Second ward has lost five; the Nineteenth, 8; Twenty-first, 13; Twenty-eighth, 33; Twenty-ninth, 74; Thirty-first, 4, and Thirty-eighth, 37.

The important gains by wards in three-story dwellings over last year are as follows: Twenty-second, 72; Twenty-third, 13; Twenty-fourth, 16; Twenty-sixth, 21; Twenty-ninth, 11; Thirty-second, 19; Thirty-fourth, 50; Thirty-fifth, 13; Thirty-eighth, 23, and the Forty-second, 5.

The wards that have lost in three-story dwellings by comparison with our last year's report are, Fourth ward, 2; Fifth ward, 7; Nineteenth, 2; Twenty-seventh, 80; Twenty-eighth, 28; Thirty-third, 21; Thirty-sixth, 11; Thirty-seventh, 12; Thirty-ninth, 5; Fortieth, 7, and Forty-first, 4.

The opinion seems to prevail that land held by operative builders has been very generally used up and that some important sites must be made preparatory to next year's work; and it is also argued that land is fast reaching a point as to price which in conjunction with the cost of labor and material leaves the operator too small a profit even at the present exalted prices of two-story dwellings to justify the risks always associated with this work.

It is intimated that our operative builders will not be on "Easy Street" next year as to advances. As a fact, it is stated that loans of this nature have already utilized about all of the funds available outside of the trust companies, many of which, owing to past experiences, will not entertain building propositions at all. Of course nothing in the way of rules can be established for either companies or individuals; and we see no reason to expect trouble in this direction for legitimate enterprises, for there are certain scientific principles which control this end of our building proposition and there are scientific men enough of character and experience whose management of such loanable funds assures safety in every direction.

The margin of profit even in the two-story dwellings that have been sold at prices ranging from $4,500 to $5,500 was not as great as most people think, and it can be truly said that these margins were no greater than they should have been in the average.

Things cost more now than they did in the past, and this is in keeping with public sentiment as to the wages and working hours of the wage earners. This is but a single part of the evolution through which this old town is progressing, and the fellow who cannot recognize that she has got a vigorous move on her in all directions must be obtusely affected as to intellectual vision.

Taking up industrial buildings we begin with the opinion of Mr. W. Bruce Barrow, who is constantly engaged in this special line of real estate. He says that, "Up to August 31st, this year, there was some demand for factory sites, but very little for factories already erected. From September 1st, last, up to the present time there has been considerable demand for factory sites in Philadelphia.

"I have sold quite a number of these, some with railroad sidings, and some on which factories are being erected; others for which plans are being prepared by architects. Considering the dullness in general business the demand has been very good. At this time we are negotiating with firms for the purchase of large factory sites, which we trust will be consummated before January 1st, next. If the confidence of the people can be restored, I believe that the manufacturers will be very busy in their various lines during the coming year. As to the question of store properties or centrally located business properties the demand has only been in certain localities where it was thought the largest amount of business was being done; generally speaking, the demand for this class of property has been dull. I feel confident that when the election is over there will be a large increase in business in every line."

It will be seen that this year thus far we have 210 industrial buildings against 207 for the same months of 1903. The investment in those erected this year was $2,567,838 against $9,732,239, the cost of those erected during the same months of 1903, of $6,864,392 less; but the Wanamaker building, costing $5,000,000, was responsible for the large figures in our 1903 report.

Warehouses, 31—the same as last year; but the investment is $672,830 less than in 1903.

Dye and dryhouses are 2 this year against 7 last year, and the investment is $24,950 less.

Factories are 61 in number, or only 1 less than last year; but the shrinkage in the investment amounts to $154,268.

Engine and boilerhouses are 22, or 9 more than last year; but the investment shrinks $82,007.

Breweries and bottlinghouses are 2, the same as last year, and the investment in these is greater than in 1903 by $54,200.

Foundries and shops are 36 in number, or 1 less than last year, and the investment is $55,800 less.

Stores (not "stores and dwellings") are 56, or 1 more than last year; but right here is the enormous shrinkage of $5,728,737.

The shrinkage in the industrial buildings this year, notwithstanding opinions to the contrary, presents no cause for alarm that we can recognize. It is just what might have been expected after the prolonged boom in that class of buildings.

We believe that to increase the manufacturing facilities of the country regardless of the consuming characteristics of our markets would result in overproduction to such an extent as to cause serious consequences. Conservation is now needed more than ever before, for the man does not live who can predict the outcome of the great awakening now expressed by the terrible energy of the Japanese people in their present war. If this potent influence at its close is once directed with the same energy to manufacturing, it will make conditions all over the world of such a character as to deprive many thousands of prosperous manufacturers of their present profitable markets. The Japanese are beating the world in hair brushes now, and there is no earthly reason why they should not almost entirely absorb all of the markets of the Far East. This is not a dream; we look for its early realization, for the man who can live and grow fat and strong on a rice diet is not to be deterred from competition even by tariff restrictions. From this it must appear to the reader that we do not agree with our good friend Mr. Barrow in his restoration-of-confidence idea as we have quoted him, for we insist that what he regards as a lapse of confidence is nothing more or less than a change from abnormal to normal conditions, for a serious curtailment of demand always meant and always will mean a restriction in the demand for manufacturing sites and plants as well as manufacturing products.

The super-sensitive character of our manufacturing interests was never better exemplified than when the knitting goods men locked horns before a Congressional committee with the agricultural machinery manufacturers, who wanted free trade reciprocity with Germany for these two manufacturing interests.

It was shown that over one hundred million dollars had already been invested in the plants of the American knitting goods manufacturers; that their workers earned from eight to sixteen dollars per week, while the workers in the German factories of the same kind average but four and five dollars per week; that there were one hundred thousand persons constantly employed who support three hundred and fifty thousand women and children as well as aged dependents, and that such a deal, if consummated, would flood the American market with German knitted goods, causing a perfect harvest of loss and misery beyond estimate. Even more than this—the advent of free American agricultural machinery into Germany would not only greatly impair our own grain market there, but which ultimately might make Germany our worst competitor in food supplies everywhere.

The saving fund institutions are very properly regarded as a reliable indicator of the prosperity of our wage earners. We find in this respect that while the number of depositors this year has not increased at the same rate as last, yet there is a satisfactory healthy natural increase accompanied by a considerable increase in the volume of money deposited. In the face of increased rentals and the cost of food this is certainly a good showing.

Our table of transfers of real estate since January 1st records 16,043 against 14,881 for the same month of 1903. This is an increase of 1,162. The consideration this year amounts to $78,453,483.86, while last year it was $79,555,337.28, a difference in favor of last year of $1,101,853.42. This is probably owing to the prevailing preference for two-story dwellings.

The mortgage encumbrance this year on the property transferred amounts to $35,575,002.50, or 45.3 per cent. The properties transferred for the same period last year bore a mortgage encumbrance of $28,823,345.63, or 36.2 per cent.

The ground rents this year amount to $369,683.83, which on a six per cent. basis represents a further encumbrance of $6,161,397.16; the ground rent encumbrance on the transferred properties for the same period of last year amounted to $308,230.26, which on a six per cent. basis amounted to a further encumbrance of $5,177,171.00.

To enable comparison we give the percentage of mortgage encumbrance for the respective years since 1898 inclusive: 1898, 36.4 per cent.; 1899, 40 per cent.; 1900, 39.6 per cent.; 1901, 40.8 per cent.; 1902, 39.8 per cent.; 1903, 36.2 per cent., and 1904, 45.3 per cent.

The sales at auction this year amounted to $2,724,280.97, while for the same period in 1903 they amounted to $2,519,892.05. The mortgage encumbrance on the real estate sold at auction this year amounts to $4,284.78.

The complaint among architects as to work is general. They express the hope that there will be an early resumption in the transfer for large buildings and that the present hold-up is only temporary. All of this also holds good as to our builders.

The seventy-nine miscellaneous buildings include a maternity house, $87,000; nurses' home, $143,000; banks, $183,500; theatres, $255,000; apartment houses, $280,000; orphanage, $200,000; bakeries, $25,500; gymnasium, $47,000; hotel, $600,000; hospitals, $17,112,722; homes, $116,000; power-houses, $60,000; libraries, $8,200; chapels, $45,385; truckhouse, $18,000; bowling alley, $100,000; schoolhouse, $35,500; laboratory, $8,500; mission house, $28,000, and a few other buildings of minor importance.

The 20th Century Hot Air Radiator System of Heating

MORE efficient and more reliable than of water or steam, with the cost of installation one-half. The radiators are made of sheet steel, and can be set in any desired part of the room without cutting carpets or holes in floors. They can be decorated to conform to the room decorations; no iron pipes and valves coming up through the floors to leak and cause annoyance and destruction. The hot air from the furnace, located in the cellar, passes through the radiators in each room, giving an even and delightful temperature, without dust, smell or odor of coal gas, or any of the other numerous bad features of registers, hot water or steam. The circulation of the hot air through the 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR is perfect and constant, is always under absolute control and the heat can be regulated in each room. Any make of furnace, new or old, if efficient, can be used. The cost of installation is much less, and the economy of fuel much greater than in the best of hot water or steam heating systems, and the results far superior.

We are now prepared to install complete THE 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR SYSTEM in new or old houses under our guarantee as to its efficiency. Advise location and size of property, when estimates on the cost of installation will be furnished without charge.

Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company

of Philadelphia

Your insurance should be adapted to your circumstances, age and occupation.
 If you need to emphasize protection you will buy a life policy.
 If you wish to combine Saving and Investment with insurance you will buy an Endowment Policy.
 If you are advanced in years and wish to be relieved from financial care you will buy an Annuity Contract, assuring you an annual income for life.
 If you are undecided as to the kind of Policy, or if you do not now feel able to carry the kind you think you want, THE PENN MUTUAL has a low premium Policy well suited to your case. This contract enables you to start your insurance now, and to have your payments credited on any other policy you may wish to select later—the premium rate of the new Policy to be that of your present age.

ARCHITECTS' NOTES

R. C. Clarkson, engineer, Stephen Girard Building, has made plans and specifications for a boiler house and alterations to power house at the Camden & Trenton Railway Company, at Riverside, N. J. The boiler house will be one-story high, 30x30 feet, and will be built of brick and slow burning material.

Clyde S. Adams, architect, Mutual Life Building, has completed plans and specifications for four stores to be built on a lot measuring 80x90 feet, at Fifty-third and Spruce streets, for Mr. Allen T. Lewis. They will be two stories high and will be built of brick and contain all modern improvements.

Board of trustees of the Howard Hospital, Mr. Edward Hopkinson, chairman of the board, situated on the southeast corner of Broad and Catharine streets, has purchased the two properties on Catharine street adjoining the present hospital, running clear through to a small street. It is the intention of the trustees in the near future to build an addition to its present building.

At Llanerch, Pa., a lot has been bought at the corner of Landillo avenue and Coopers town road, Llanerch, upon which a schoolhouse will be erected by the Haverford School Board, of which John R. Valentine and Thomas Hughes are members. The lot was bought of Charles S. Taylor. An architectural committee will be appointed to invite architects to submit plans for the proposed new school building.

Professor Warren P. Laird, of the University of Pennsylvania, will erect a new residence for himself at Merion, Pa., according to his own plans and specifications. It will be two stories and attic high and will measure 40x44 feet, and will be constructed of brick and stone. The interior will be in hardwood finish and it will have all conveniences. It is expected that he will invite bids from contractors the early part of next year.

A charter was granted to the American Oncologic Hospital by the Common Pleas Court No. 1. It is the intention of this new hospital to purchase ground and erect a new building for the treatment of cancer and other tumorous diseases. The corporators of the new institution are George H. Stuart, Jr., Dr. G. Belton Massey, the Rev. Percy S. Allen, Dr. Boardman Reed, Frank L. Patterson, Dr. Howard R. Swayne and Dr. Addinell Hewson.

Stearns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building, have completed plans and specifications and invited estimates for a new ambulance stable to be built at Thirteenth and Wolf streets, for the Methodist Hospital, at Broad and Wolf streets. It will be two stories high, of brick. Bids due November 21st. The following builders have been invited to bid: Henderson & Co., Burd P. Evans, Appleton & Burrell, Seward L. Bowser, A. Raymond Raff, John R. Wiggins & Co., Doyle & Doak.

C. E. Schermerhorn, architect, 430 Walnut street, has completed plans and specifications and will invite estimates for four houses to be built at Cynwyd, Pa. They will be two-and-a-half stories high, of frame and will measure 25x40 feet. Each will have porches on the front. The first floors will be finished in chestnut and red oak. The bedrooms, mahogany and enameled paint. They will be wired for electricity, best plumbing and every convenience.

It is reported that Architect Phil H. The Judges, together with the County Commissioners, after visiting and examining the new courthouse at York, Pa., have employed Mr. J. A. Dempwolff, architect, of York, Pa., to prepare plans for the new extension and remodeling of the existing Lackawanna County Courthouse, at Scranton, Pa. The addition will be of stone, 100x15 feet, and contain new county offices on first floor, two additional court and jury rooms and Judges' chambers on second floor, with law library, superintendent of public schools and district attorney's rooms on third floor. The remodeling of the existing building will consist of enlarging the offices and introducing a 36-foot wide cross hall with stone stairway from basement to third floor, lighted from dome above and making the entire third floor available for jury rooms, offices and toilets. Both the existing building and addition will be of the most thorough fireproof construction and fitted with every tested modern device to facilitate the transaction of business as well as insure the comfort of the officials and the public. The addition will also include a new heating, mechanical ventilating and lighting plant.

Ballinger & Perrot, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street, have prepared plans and invited estimates from contractors for the erection of an eight-story and basement fireproof building for Mr. J. L. Ketterlinus, of the Ketterlinus Lithographic and Manufacturing Company, at the northwest corner of Fourth and Arch streets. The building will have a frontage on Fourth street of 63 feet and on Arch street of 80 feet. It will be of a design to conform with the present eight-story printing establishment. There will be one tower fire escape on the Fourth street front from which will communicate with both the new and the old building, and a tower stairway with passenger elevator enclosed at the extreme western end of the Arch street front. The floors will all be of extra heavy construction throughout to stand the vibration of heavy printing machinery. The windows throughout will be of wire glass in metal frames and so arranged as to give the maximum amount of light in every story. The top story, which is used as a composing room, will have over it two skylights of the saw tooth pattern, likewise of fireproof glass. This being an addition to the present building will make the entire establishment 80x140 feet, eight stories and basement, containing two passenger and two freight elevators and three tower stairways, including the tower fire escapes. Estimates are to be obtained at once, and contracts awarded as soon as possible, but the tearing down of the present five-story structure on the corner will not be commenced until the middle of January.—They have also made plans for an addition to the leather manufactory of J. P. Mathieu & Co. The present manufacturing plant occupies the block bounded by Westmoreland, Ninth, Tenth and Ontario streets, and the addition will be on the northeast corner of Tenth and Ontario streets. It will be 83x75 feet, two stories, with an additional story over the present building, 42x50 feet, and also will shortly invite revised estimates on the building on the west side of Tenth street between Hamilton and Ruttonwood streets, for the Union Storage & Transfer Company. The revised plans contemplate the removal of the present four floors and roof, and substituting in their place six floors and roof of fireproof construction. It is to be of "Unit" girder frame system of reinforced concrete. There will also be a tower stairway and brick enclosed elevator shaft located on the west side of the building and an additional building, 20x140 feet, one-story and basement, which will be used as a receiving and shipping department.

HOW TO USE DEXTER CEMENT IN CONSTRUCTION WORK

Messrs. Samuel H. French & Co., Fourth and Callowhill sts, this city, have issued a hanging card containing important information as to the proper portions of sand, stone and Dexter Cement to be used in making concrete work for different purposes.

It must be understood that this information is based upon prolonged scientific laboratory experiments as well as practical experience in construction work, as a close tab has been carefully kept on all work however unimportant, where the Dexter Cement has been used, consequently the formulas published by Messrs. French & Co. are so thoroughly reliable that any person with ordinary intelligence however unacquainted with the use of cement could prepare a concrete with Dexter Cement for any designated work which would possess the requisite strength and durability beyond any doubt or question, if the formula is strictly followed.

The fact that in some of Messrs. French & Co.'s formulas the proportion of Dexter Cement to be used is very small, emphasizes both its great strength as well as its great economical value.

Indeed, there is nothing omitted on the card, for it includes the selection of gravel as well as the use of water and the art of mixing.

They have also issued a hanging wall card containing interesting information concerning artificial stone sidewalks, which should be in the office of all interested in such work.

The 20th Century Hot Air Radiator System of Heating

MORE efficient and more reliable than hot water or steam, with the cost of installation one-half. The radiators are made of sheet steel, and can be set in any desired part of the room without cutting carpets or holes in floors. They can be decorated to conform to the room decorations; no iron pipes and valves coming up through the floors to leak and cause annoyance and destruction. The hot air from the furnace, located in the cellar, passes through the radiators in each room, giving an even and delightful temperature, without dust, smell or odor of coal gas, or any of the other numerous bad features of registers, hot water or steam. The circulation of the hot air through the 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR is perfect and constant, is always under absolute control and the heat can be regulated in each room. Any make of furnace, new or old, if efficient, can be used. The cost of installation is much less, and the economy of fuel much greater than in the best of hot water or steam heating systems, and the results far superior.

We are now prepared to install complete THE 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR SYSTEM in new or old houses under our guarantee as to its efficiency. Advise location and size of property, when estimates on the cost of installation will be furnished without charge.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1904.

A REVELATION IN HOT AIR HEATING AT THE PARISH HOUSE OF ST. ANDREW'S P. E. CHURCH.

The parish house of St. Andrew's P. E. church, located at the southwest corner of Thirty-sixth and Baring streets, is a large brick building entirely disconnected with other buildings, and so situated as to derive all the many disadvantages of a northern and eastern exposure.

It is two stories and an attic, with cold air ventilators in the side walls and in the ceiling of the second story room, which is used for lecture purposes, the first story being used for the Sabbath school connected with the church.

These two large rooms contain in all 29 large windows, four of which at the north end of the second floor open into a wide double stairway leading to the second story. The cellar, with its eight-foot ceiling, extends the full length of the building in every direction.

During the winter of 1903 and 1904, i. e., last winter, the coal consumed in the effort to heat this building, with a 54-inch Novelty Heater, averaged three tons per month.

The above particulars have been carefully noted, because this building with its many disadvantages so well known to heating men, was the veritable nut which Mr. Frank W. Dilks, 535 Arch street, this city, had to crack with his Twentieth Century Hot Air Radiator Circulating System.

In other words, as the heating expert would put it, here we're at a mathematical proposition. 24,516 cubic feet of interior air to be kept heated to a temperature of 70 degrees Fahrenheit, to which must be added the glass exposure, which is equivalent to 54,000 cubic feet of interior air space; including also the brick wall exposure, which is again equivalent to 3,000 more cubic feet of air surface, which must be heated, or in round numbers 24,000 plus 54,000 plus 2,000 equals 80,000.

If our readers suppose that the heating of this building was an easy proposition wherein any old thing of a heater might be made absolutely efficient, a visit to the premises will correct such an opinion, for the building for a practical test might as well stand in an open field.

The present Twentieth Century plant which Mr. Dilks has just installed consists of a forty-inch Novelty heater, with a nineteen-inch fire pot.

Only eleven sheet steel radiators representing a radiating surface of 600 square feet are used. These radiators are suspended on the side walls and are entirely clear of the floor, and are connected with the hot air supply pipe and the cold air return pipes to the furnace in the cellar.

The consumption of coal during a test of 7 days averaged 80 pounds per day of 24 hours, or a monthly average of 2,400 pounds, or a trifle over one ton per month, against three tons per month which was the regular consumption of coal during the winter months of last year.

At the north end of the school room a single radiator supplied with heated air through a pipe twenty-two feet long against the north air pressure is one of the most efficient in the whole building.

During the storm of Sunday, November 13th last, a tested thermometer hanging on the gas fixture in the centre of the school room registered uninterruptedly 70 degrees Fahrenheit, with the daily average of coal consumption as above stated.

Mr. Dilks has sent invitations to architects, builders, steam, hot water and hot air experts and others to visit the building daily from Monday, November 21st, including Monday, December 5th, when the building will be open from 11 A. M. to 2 P. M.

WOODS' STEEL CORNER

It is patented steel strip that is fastened to lath, or other construction, on projecting corners, is embedded in the plaster and prevents it chipping. It does a great deal more, but our book, "Just Around the Corner," tells the rest. Send for it. A sample, too, for the asking. It costs less to put Woods' Steel Corner in a building than to keep the corners repaired.

WOODS' STEEL CORNER

It is a patented steel strip that is fastened to lath, or other construction, on projecting corners, is embedded in the plaster and prevents it chipping. It does a great deal more, but our book, "Just Around the Corner," tells the rest. Send for it. A sample, too, for the asking. It costs less to put Woods' Steel Corner in a building than to keep the corners repaired.

WOODS' STEEL CORNER

It is patented steel strip that is fastened to lath, or other construction, on projecting corners, is embedded in the plaster and prevents it chipping. It does a great deal more, but our book, "Just Around the Corner," tells the rest. Send for it. A sample, too, for the asking. It costs less to put Woods' Steel Corner in a building than to keep the corners repaired.

DYCKERHOFF PORTLAND CEMENT

Made in Germany and used in the United States for more than twenty-five years. The high esteem in which it is held is due to its correct chemical composition, great strength and constant uniformity—perfections which have not been approached by any other cement.

ARCHITECTS' NOTES

Herman Miller, architect, Crozer Building, has been commissioned to prepare plans for the new factory to be erected at the southeast corner of Twelfth and Race streets, for L. Harrison & Co. It will be six stories and basement high, 42x70 feet. It will be built of brick and slow burning construction, and will have elevator, heated by steam, tower fire escape and every modern convenience and appointment. It is expected that working drawings and bids will be invited the latter part of this month.

Albert W. Dilks, architect, Mutual Life Building, has completed plans and specifications and invited estimates for exterior alterations to the building of A. C. Yates & Co., at the southwest corner of Thirteenth and Chestnut streets, for Charles Dissel, owner. Bids due December 15th. The following builders have been invited to bid: P. J. Hurley, Stacy Reeves & Sons, Jacob Myers & Sons, Lewis Havens' Sons, R. C. Ballinger & Co., J. E. & A. L. Pennock, James Johnson and Thomas Little & Son.

Heacock & Hokanson, architects, 931 Chestnut, have completed plans and specifications and invited estimates for a new hotel to be built on Connecticut avenue near the beach, Atlantic City, N. J., for Mrs. E. V. Brown. It will be three stories and basement high, 40x150 feet, and will be built of brick and will contain 60 bed rooms, with all modern improvements. Bids due December 22. The following are bidding: Charles S. Thompson, Philip G. Hannum and G. E. Goff, of Atlantic City, and three Philadelphia builders.

H. L. Reinhold, Jr., architect, 1004 Chestnut street, has completed plans and specifications and invited estimates for a new residence to be erected at Cynwyd, Pa. It will be two-and-a-half stories high, frame and will measure 35.10x30.7 feet. It will have a porch on the front and have all modern conveniences. Bids due December 19th. The following builders are bidding: P. J. Hurley, Metzger & Wells, Edward Fay, Scott & Kriebel, J. Sims Wilson, Reynolds & Caldwell, I. Walter Thompson, A. L. Fritz and H. Marion Zane.

E. V. Seeler, architect, Real Estate Building, is preparing plans for a handsome new library to be built at Williamsport, Pa., at a cost of $400,000. It is to be known as the James V. Brown Memorial Library and will be two stories and basement high, 130x75 feet, and will be built in white marble, in the French renaissance style of architecture. A trustees', children's and general reading rooms will be on the first floor, with an art gallery on the second floor. It will be heated by steam, wired for electricity and have every convenience and appointment. It will be some time before plans are ready for bids.

Architect E. A. Arend, Asbury Park, N. J., has been commissioned to prepare plans for a handsome cottage to be erected at Loch Arbor, N. J., for Mr. F. L. Fariera, of New York City, who purchased the site, a large lot fronting on Deal Lake, last summer. The plans will provide for a cottage to cost $12,000. It will be finely finished and provided with all modern conveniences. It is to be ready to occupy in the spring. Architect Arend is interested in the organization of the Monmouth Boat Club, which proposes to erect a clubhouse fronting on Deal Lake.

Negotiations are in progress for the purchase of the old Wagner green house, on West Pratt street near Charles street, Baltimore, Md. It is in the hands of Mr. Charles Morton, the real estate man, and if the deal is closed the property will pass into the hands of one of the owners of the famous Green Hotel, of this city, and a restaurant similar to it will be erected on the site. An offer of $37,000 has been made for the property and it is probable that the deal will be put through the early part of this week. The prospective purchaser has announced his intention to raze or partly tear down the old buildings and erect in its place a handsome modern restaurant structure.

Announcement has been made by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad that the company will select by competition an architect for the new general office building to be erected in Baltimore. The building will be 168 by 155 feet and thirteen stories high. A committee, consisting of the president, three vice presidents and chief engineer of the Baltimore & Ohio, with Professor William R. Ware as adviser, will make the award. Six firms of architects have been selected. Each will be paid for drawing designs for the building to be submitted in the competition. About thirty will have an opportunity of drawing plans. The award committee will begin work about January 12th.

Rowland W. Boyle, architect, 1626 Chestnut street, has completed plans and invited estimates for the handsome new Catholic church, to be built at the corner of Fifty-second and Lancaster avenue, for the congregation of St. Gregory. It will be one-story and basement high, 65x126 feet, and will be built of Port Deposit stone with Indiana sandstone trimmings, and will have a polished granite base. It will be finished on the interior in oak finish, with oak pews, confessionals, etc. It will have stained glass windows and be heated by steam and have every convenience and appointment. It will seat about 800 persons and will have an entrance on each side with a large rose window over the main entrance. It is expected that the new church will be the most modern and will have the latest up-to-date appointments, and will cost when finished about $65,000.

Charles J. Brooke, architect, 14 South Broad street, this city, has completed plans and specifications and invite estimates for the handsome new steel ocean pier to be built at the foot of Poplar avenue, Wildwood, N. J., for Baker Brothers. The pier will have a frontage of 180 feet, with a depth of 666 feet. There will be a main building facing the boardwalk, 200x90 feet, and will be two stories high. The first floor will contain refreshment room and a bowling alley and pool and billiard room. The second floor will consist of a magnificent ball room, basket ball court. The ball room will cover 9,000 square feet of space. The pier will accommodate 10,000 persons. There will be a theatre building on the pier with a seating capacity for 2,000 persons, equipped with an up-to-date stage 90x90 feet. The opening or proscenium arches will be 35 feet in width. In the rear of the theatre a music stand for concerts will be built. At the extreme end a carousel building, 60 feet square, will be built; also a two-story bath house, measuring 60x80 feet, with hot and cold sea baths and shower rooms on the second floor. The pier will be illuminated by electric lights and some of the buildings heated by steam. It will be one of the handsomest piers of this country. Contract for the superstructure will be let in a few days. All the piling is now in. It is to be opened in the summer of 1905.

Architect A. A. Ritcher, Lebanon, Pa., has prepared plans for a new church to be erected at Harrisburg, Pa., for the Second Reformed congregation. It will be Gothic in style, of brick, with stone trimmings, two stories high, two towers, one eighty feet high. The main audience room will be located on the second floor and will be finished in panelled quartered oak, with quartered oak rafters. The Sunday-school and classrooms will occupy the first floor and will be finished in oak. The basement will contain reception hall, dining-room and kitchen. The system for heating the church has not yet been fully selected, but steam appears to be the choice. All facilities for lighting by either electricity or gas will be made and whichever has the call can be installed. It is expected that the contract will be let about January 1st and that the accepted bidder will start the work of demolishing the present church as soon after as possible so that the work upon the foundations can be started as soon as the frost is out of the ground. The parsonage will not be razed until after March 1st. A new parsonage is to be built and will be begun as soon as a suitable location is found. When the new edifice is finished it is expected to cost about $40,000. The contract will be let without the stained glass or furnishings and the inside trimmings are expected to cost in the neighborhood of $8,000 to $10,000, including the stained window glass. Rev. Harry Nelson Bassler is the pastor.

The 20th Century Hot Air Radiator System of Heating

MORE efficient and more reliable than hot water or steam, with the cost of installation one-half. The radiators are made of sheet steel, and can be set in any desired part of the room without cutting carpets or holes in floors. They can be decorated to conform to the room decorations; no iron pipes and valves coming up through the floors to leak and cause annoyance and destruction. The hot air from the furnace, located in the cellar, passes through the radiators in each room, giving an even and delightful temperature, without dust, smell or odor of coal gas, or any of the other numerous bad features of registers, hot water or steam. The circulation of the hot air through the 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR is perfect and constant, is always under absolute control and the heat can be regulated in each room. Any make of furnace, new or old, if efficient, can be used. The cost of installation is much less, and the economy of fuel much greater than in the best of hot water or steam heating systems, and the results far superior.

We are now prepared to install complete THE 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR SYSTEM in new or old houses under our guarantee as to its efficiency. Advise location and size of property, when estimates on the cost of installation will be furnished without charge.

It is a patented steel strip that is fastened to lath, or other construction, on projecting corners, is embedded in the plaster and prevents it chipping. It does a great deal more, but our book, "Just Around the Corner," tells the rest. Send for a sample, too, for the asking. MORE efficient and more reliable than hot water or steam, with the cost of installation one-half. The radiators are made of sheet steel, and can be set in any desired part of the room without cutting carpets or holes in floors. They can be decorated to conform to the room decorations; no iron pipes and valves coming up through the floors to leak and cause annoyance and destruction. The hot air from the furnace, located in the cellar, passes through the radiators in each room, giving an even and delightful temperature, without dust, smell or odor of coal gas, or any of the other numerous bad features of registers, hot water or steam. The circulation of the hot air through the 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR is perfect and constant, is always under absolute control and the heat can be regulated in each room. Any make of furnace, new or old, if efficient, can be used. The cost of installation is much less, and the economy of fuel much greater than in the best of hot water or steam heating systems, and the results far superior.

The 20th Century Hot Air Radiator System of Heating

MORE efficient and more reliable than hot water or steam, with the cost of installation one-half. The radiators are made of sheet steel, and can be set in any desired part of the room without cutting carpets or holes in floors. They can be decorated to conform to the room decorations; no iron pipes and valves coming up through the floors to leak and cause annoyance and destruction. The hot air from the furnace, located in the cellar, passes through the radiators in each room, giving an even and delightful temperature, without dust, smell or odor of coal gas, or any of the other numerous bad features of registers, hot water or steam. The circulation of the hot air through the 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR is perfect and constant, is always under absolute control and the heat can be regulated in each room. Any make of furnace, new or old, if efficient, can be used. The cost of installation is much less, and the economy of fuel much greater than in the best of hot water or steam heating systems, and the results far superior. We are now prepared to install complete THE 20TH CENTURY HOT AIR RADIATOR SYSTEM in new or old houses under our guarantee as to its efficiency. Advise location and size of property, when estimates on the cost of installation will be furnished without charge.

WOODS' STEEL CORNER

It is a patented steel strip that is fastened to lath, or other construction, on projecting corners, is embedded in the plaster and prevents it chipping. It does a great deal more, but our book, "Just Around the Corner," tells the rest. Send for it. A sample, too, for the asking. It costs less to put Woods' Steel Corner in a building than to keep the corners repaired.
